AMERICAN LAWS WILL CURB ENGLISH POWER

By Associated Press.

London, January 21.—The United States Tariff Act and Currency bill passed by the American Congress, were the most important events during the year 1913, in the commercial world, according to Sir Felix Schuster, Governor of Union of London and Smith's bank. In a general review of financial and trade outlook made public today, Sir Felix said: "Those two measures must have far-reaching consequences for they have made the United States a more formidable competitor than ever before; not only as regarding international commerce but as threatening London's position as center of International banking."

OTTAWA SHOCKED

By Associated Press.

Ottawa, Ont., January 21.—Four persons are known to have been killed and several injured in an explosion today which wrecked the Howick Pavilion, a huge cement and steel structure, at the Exposition grounds where the Ottawa winter fair is being held. In the confusion following the explosion it was impossible to accurately ascertain the number dead and it is feared that some are buried in the debris. Many prize horses and cattle perished. The building caught fire but the flames were checked by the fire department. The accident was caused by an explosion of the heating plant.

guage should be chosen as each nationality represented in the organization has made a strong plea for its native tongue.

After hearing the reports of the Auditing Committee and W. H. Fahy, the convention of the United Mine Workers of America today engaged in a dispute over the seating of delegates from local unions and delinquencies in the national assessments.

It was finally voted that the delegates should be seated with the understanding local unions must pay their assessments by May 1, 1914. During 1912, 3360 men, or 3.27 per cent for every 1000 miners employed were killed, according to the report of Mr. Fahy, who said the rate in 1911 was 3.73 for every 1000. Figures were not available for 1913, he said.

FIVE PERSONS ARE CREMATED

By Associated Press.

Alpena, Mich., January 21.—Five persons were burned to death late last night in a fire which destroyed the residence of Samuel Bloise. The victims were Mrs. Bloise, three of her children, and a boarder. Although injured Mr. Bloise escaped with two children. He is in a serious condition.

DYNAMITE CASES GO TO HIGH COURT

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Ill., January 21.—The stay of mandate in the cases of the alleged dynamiters convicted at Indianapolis, and whose appeal for new trials was denied, was granted by the United States Court of Appeals today. The cases of 30 defendants were appealed and new trials were ordered for six of them. The action has the effect of staying sentences on the other 24 until the United States Supreme court passes on their appeal.

CHALLENGE IS HANDED BAKER

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Ill., January 21.—The Federal League notified the powers of organized baseball that the standing of their players will be fought in and out of civil courts. This ultimatum was given in a telegram by President Gilmore of the Federals, which he sent to President Baker of the Philadelphia National club.

CHARGED WITH INCITING RIOT

By Associated Press.

Girard, Ohio, January 21.—Two men and three women were arrested last night, charged with inciting a riot, as the result of a strike of puddlers at Byer's Rolling Mill. The crowd attacked non-union workers as they finished their work and were leaving.

BAUGHN VS. BLACK CASE IS STARTED

The case of Carey E. Baughn against Winfield F. Black, in which the plaintiff asks judgment in the sum of $100 with interest, for attorney fees, was started in Common Pleas court Wednesday morning.

ALL NATIONS JOIN IN ICEBERG PACT

London, Jan. 21.—A comprehensive agreement, designed to save vessels from collision with icebergs and derelicts and other maritime dangers, was signed by the nations represented in the international conference on safety at sea. One of the rules is that when ice is reported on or near the track, a ship must proceed at moderate speed or alter its course so as to clear the danger zone. A service designed to warn ships of the movements of icebergs will be controlled by the United States. The agreement was signed at the foreign office by representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Austria, Spain, Sweden, Norway, Holland, Belgium and Denmark.

SWAIN WILL BROADEN NET

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, January 21.—Although Speaker Swain, of the House has not yet selected the special committee to investigate Representative Diser's charge that four members of the House drew pay while holding other state positions, it was stated that Mr. Diser will not be a member of the committee, causing disappointment to the Administration forces. It was learned also that Speaker Swain proposes to broaden the scope of the investigation to include other members. Several bills of minor importance are up for passage under suspension of the rules and will be disposed of later in the day.

COPPER MINERS BEING UPHELD IN THEIR FIGHT

By Associated Press.

Houghton, Mich., January 21.—The striking copper miners in the district probably will have the financial support of the United Mine Workers during the remaining days of their fight for recognition of organized labor, according to G. H. Street, who was sent here by the mine workers to investigate the situation.

"Labor needs to win this strike," said Mr. Street today, "and I believe it will win. I spent all of yesterday among the strikers at Calumet and I have never seen men more determined. Their families are being well cared for by their union and they do not appear to have the slightest thought of giving in."

PANAMA FETES

By Associated Press.

Panama, January 21.—The city of Panama today celebrated the 241st anniversary of its founding which was ordered in 1673 by a Royal decree. An official reception was held this afternoon at Municipal Palace, the guests including the entire diplomatic corps and officials.

JAPANESE OPEN WORDY WAR ON UNITED STATES

By Associated Press.

Tokio, Japan, January 21.—Japan regards as necessary replies made by the United States to her protests in connection with the California Alien Land Ownership legislation, according to a statement made today by Baron Nobuaki Makino, the Japanese Foreign Minister, in the course of a lengthy summary of the Japan-American negotiations given in his annual address to Parliament.

Baron Nobuaki's declaration that "No answer whatever had been made by the United States to Japan's third proposition presented in August was the signal for the attack on the government by several members of the Japanese Parliament, who alleged that too much reliance had been placed on the good will of America."

JURY READY FOR SCHMIDT TRIAL

By Associated Press.

New York, January 21.—After two days and a half spent in the examination of over 200 talesmen, a jury was completed this afternoon for the second trial of Hans Schmidt, the one-time priest who slew Alma Aufmuller, dismembered her body and threw it in the Hudson river. Though Schmidt confessed the crime, his defense is insanity. The first jury failed to agree upon a verdict.

280 BID FOR MONSTER LOAN

By Associated Press.

Albany, N. Y., January 21.—There was a lively demand for the $51,000,000 New York State 4 1/2 per cent, 50 year gold bonds when bids were opened here today. The issue was more than three times over subscribed by the 280 bidders. The highest bid for the entire issue was $106,077 dollars made by a syndicate composed of Kuhn, Loeb and Co., of New York. Of the proceeds 30 millions are for canal and 21 millions for highway improvement.

JAIL STRIKERS

By Associated Press.

Lisbon, Portugal, Jan. 21.—200 of the regular leaders of the general strike of railroad men in Portugal were arrested today by order of the government. Warrants against 400 others were issued.

The strike which was declared on Jan. 14th has been broken. Many of the men have resumed work and the passenger service has been restored almost to normal conditions.

FT. BEARDSLEY SURRENDERED

By Associated Press.

Mayville, N. Y., Jan. 21.—Edward Beardsley, the outlaw farmer who has for over a week defied the efforts of Sheriff Anderson to arrest him, gave himself up to C. B. Backus, a local hotel man at 4 o'clock this morning and was locked up in jail here.

Backus, who was appointed a deputy sheriff by Sheriff Anderson, effected the "capture" alone and in keeping with a plan agreed upon between him and Beardsley yesterday.

The outlaw was taken to the hotel where breakfast was served. He then went to a barber shop, after which he walked to the Sheriff's office and formally gave himself into the custody of the law. He was arrested with a warrant charging him with assault in the first degree in having shot G. W. Putnam, overseer of the poor, with intent to kill. Locked in his cell no one was allowed to see him.

Beardsley's "capture" came after eight days of open defiance of the law and his effective defense of "Ft. Beardsley" as his farm house became to be known. He boasted that Sheriff Anderson would never take him. Putnam, the wounded overseer of the poor, is in a hospital in Jamestown. He will recover.

WAVE OF RELIGION IS INCREASING IN VOLUME

Strong Impressive Sermons Given Close Attention by Large Audiences Last Night, and Spirit of Conviction Holds Many in Grasp—Song Services Add Interest to Various Meetings, and Simultaneous Campaign Moves Onward With Renewed Interest.

(By Hugh C. Weir.)

A dramatic picture of the strangest royal burial of history was drawn by Dr. Charles Shaw at the Simultaneous Evangelistic service at the Presbyterian church last night in his sermon on "Profit and Loss". It was a picture of Charlemagne of France, the ruler who was buried, seated in his chair of state. In part, Dr. Shaw said:

Mark 8:36. What shall it profit a man if he gain the world and lose himself? Three summers ago, I stood before the mausoleum, containing the remains of the great Charlemagne. Although nearly twelve hundred years had passed since his death he is still a colossal figure in the dark background of his time. He was a promoter of all the arts of peace, and his death was a world-wide calamity. He was buried at Aix Le Chapelle, in the great church which he built. His remains were placed in a crypt beneath the dome, seated as in life in his great marble chair, ornamented with gold, clad in his royal robes, sceptre in hand, and his famous sword, "Joyeuse," by his side. By his side is "Pilgrim's Progress," hanging to his girdle, and on his knee an open copy of the Gospels. It was open at the eighth chapter of the Gospel of Mark with one skeleton finger pointing to the thirty-sixth verse, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the world, and lose himself?"

"This verse reminds us of a universal instinct. Once a year at least merchants look into their affairs to see how they stand with the world. And the man who does the best for himself in secular matters is but fulfilling one law of his being. He owes it to himself, his family, and society to do the best he can. The peril lies in making these things an end in itself, and ignoring the claims of the higher realm of the spirit. "Second, the relative values embodied in our text. Two things stand out here in juxtaposition, the world, and the soul. If a man gain the world and lose himself, where is the profit? There have been men who dreamed of possessing the world. Alexander, the Great, after remarkable campaigns, stood at the mouth of the Indus, in view of the Indian Ocean, and wept bitter tears because there were no more worlds to conquer. We have all heard of him in modern times who grasped the sceptre of universal empire, and who rose from a lieutenant of artillery to mount, through successive stages an imperial throne. But although Europe had trembled at his decrees, on the field of Waterloo his career was quenched in blood. These two perhaps came the nearest to possessing the world, illustrating what the wise man has declared, that as hell and destruction are never full, the eyes of a man are never satisfied. We are only tenants at will for a little while. By force, by fraud, by casualty, by imprudence, by disease or death, everything we possess is forced from our reluctant grasp.

"Because a man is not a mere thing, he can't be satisfied with things. Because he belongs to the order of the eternal, only eternal things can round and complete his character. The power to commune with God is the vital difference between men and beasts. As we think of the fleeting character of all earthly work, the unrest and dissatisfaction that accompanies the highest human attainments, and then compare with the soul, with its infinite capacity, its immortal nature, and its destined glory, the things of time and sense dwindle into nothingness. For when the heavens shall roll away at a stroke and the earth vanish into oblivion, the real life of the soul will only have just begun.

"What then constitutes true profit to any man? Everything that ministers to spiritual growth or strengthens Christian character, and all that life holds dear is only valuable as it contributes to that end.

"When Francis, the First, lost the important battle of Pavia, he exclaimed, 'All is lost but honor!' And thus, while the disaster was overwhelming, the preservation of honor remained intact, and unsullied. But if we lose ourselves, there is nothing to mitigate, or to qualify it. It is the loss of losses, the death of deaths, a catastrophe unequalled in extent, and unparalleled in its amount through all the universe of God. For what shall it profit a man if he gain the world and lose himself?"

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

"Lots of people in this city are trying to escape the demands of the evangelistic campaign by plunging into social activities," said Rev. Henry Brandt at the Baptist church last night in a ringing sermon on "The Unsuccessful Dodger."

"They are trying to forget themselves and the campaign by redoubling their social amusements. And they are going to find themselves disappointed. It is impossible to escape the responsibility of dealing with Jesus Christ. Every man and woman must deal with the direct, personal question, What Shall I Do with Jesus? In every life He must either be accepted or rejected. There is no half way attitude possible.

"Pilate tried to escape the responsibility of dealing with Christ. He washed his hands in a basin of water, and cried out to the multitude, 'On your heads be it!' But he could not escape his responsibility. Let us glance at that wonderfully dramatic scene.

"Pilate was a judge who had ruled with an iron hand. In his decrees he consulted no man. He dispensed justice according to his own views, often according to his own whims. History tells us that he would even sentence the accusers instead of the accused. He was absolute, czar-like. He was master alone. And now comes the day when, according to custom he is to give to the multitude one of the prisoners under his control. Prominent among the number are Barabas, a notorious thief, and Jesus of Nazareth. Which shall it be? He puts the question, and there comes back the cry, 'Give us Barabas!' Pilate hesitates. 'What then shall I do with Jesus?' he asks. 'Crucify him!' comes the answer. Again Pilate hesitates. For the first time in his life he is at a loss. His wife whispers to him that she has had strange dreams, for him to have nothing to do with the case. Pilate, the indomitable, Pilate, the master, tries to fling the responsibility from him. But he cannot. Jesus is scourged and dragged to the cross. And now what happens?

"Pilate sees his own affairs involved, sees himself accused, is even dragged before Caesar, no longer the haughty judge, but the cowering prisoner. Tradition tells us that unable to bear the lashings of his conscience, he creeps at night to the river, and flings himself to his death. "You must answer the question of yourself, What Shall I Do with Jesus? No one can answer it for you. No one can bear the responsibility of your decision but yourself. You may turn away from the church, you may seek to escape from the spirit of the revival, but you cannot escape Jesus."

Miss Sheen led an inspiring song service at the meeting, and contributed a solo, given with that rare sympathy of expression and truthfulness of tone for which she is so well known.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Rev. Bowman Hostetler last night preached on the subject, "Narrow Things" before an audience that filled the church. He said in part:

"If we lived in the old New England days, and should have chanced to go to sleep in church, the deacon would have rapped us smartly with a stick, fashioned for this purpose. We call those days 'narrow'. A good many people profess to be dissatisfied with what they term the narrowness and bigotry of present-day religion. I will grant that it is bad policy to be too narrow, but it is worse to be too broad.

"We should be careful both in our religious and our moral lives. The trouble with many of us is that we are getting broader than the gospel of Christ. You will be disappointed if you expect to get into Heaven by the broad door. There isn't any broad entrance. The Bible tells us that we must 'strive to enter in by the narrow door'. There is no other way but through this way, through Christ. You must be narrow enough to submit yourself to Jesus Christ. Jesus made the way of salvation very narrow when He said, 'Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.'"

Miss Ridgeway, of the Wilson Avenue church of Columbus, sang a solo during the evening, and at the conclusion of the sermon, she and Mr. McCracken, also of Columbus, gave a duet. A number of candidates were given the ceremony of baptism at the close of the service. There will be baptism every evening until all the new accessions have received the rite.

AT THE GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

A large audience heard an effective sermon by Rev. F. E. Ross last night on the subject, "A Fatal Decision". In his personal, practical way, Mr. Ross applied his theme to the problems of every-day life, emphasizing the case of the man who chooses worldly advancement, or riches instead of the higher spiritual things of life, and pointing out how fatal such a choice is shown in the final analysis. The singing was especially inspiring. At the conclusion of the service an after meeting was held in which an unusual spirit and earnestness were shown.

ALLEGED CHICKEN THIEF IS NABBED

Train Funk, residing in the Danville neighborhood just over the Fayette-Madison county line, is under arrest on a charge of stealing chickens in lower Madison county and upper Fayette county.

The man, who is now being held in the Madison county jail, is also charged with stealing corn and coal, and the authorities believe they have a man who has been causing the farmers of the community no little annoyance by his nefarious work.

For Delicate Children

A Mother's Letter to Mothers.

Mrs. E. W. Cooper of Bloomfield, N. J., says: "My child, seven years old, had a bad cold and was weak and quite run down in health. She had been in this condition for about six weeks when I began giving her Vinol. It was a wonderful help to the child, breaking up her cold quickly and building up her strength beside. I have also found Vinol a most excellent tonic for keeping up the children's strength during a siege of whooping cough."

Vinol is a wonderful combination of two world-famed tonics—the medicinal body building elements of cod liver oil and iron for the blood, therefore it is a perfectly safe medicine for children, because it is not a patent medicine, everything in it is printed on every package, so mothers may know what they are giving their little ones.

Therefore we ask every mother of a weak, sickly or ailing child in this vicinity to try Vinol on our guarantee. Blackmer & Tanquary.

Our 1914 Ohio Almanac

Real facts are way beyond fiction in fascination when they are selected by people who know the significance of what they are doing. It is such people as that who compiled this complete encyclopedia of Ohio for you.

INDUSTRY

There are about six hundred thousand people in Ohio's factories alone, there are many more thousands on farms. And they are all engaged in producing food and clothing and other necessities for you.

POLITICS

There were about one and one-quarter million votes cast for president in Ohio at the last election. How they were divided and how other officials and various amendments to the constitution were voted on in this state and in your county is of more than passing interest.

LEGISLATION

Tax laws, pure food laws, the sort of legislation each of the six parties in the state stand for, is not only of interest to read and understand but it affects you personally and vitally.

UNIVERSITIES

The universities and the schools of Ohio are doing wonderful work. Do you know very much about them, or how many boys and girls and young men and young women of the state they are reaching?

These are just a few of the lines of general interest treated in our new 1914 Ohio Almanac, and all of them treated with clarity and conciseness, which means that a busy man can take time to learn about them. We offer our readers the Handbook for only 25 cents; by mail,

TRAILING GANG OF LIGHT WEIGHT GOLD PIECES MOTORCAR THIEVES

Dayton, Ohio., Jan. 20.—The local money market has many light weight ten dollar gold pieces that are causing considerable trouble, as many of them are stamped with an "L" designating them as having been "weighed and found wanting."

When they bear this stamp they are refused at the banks and can only be redeemed by being sent to the mint where they are weighed and the actual amount of gold value sent to the person holding them.

Kerien Fitzpatrick, treasurer of the postoffice, who handles large sums of money daily, says that very often the local banks have a money cleaning crusade, rounding up all of these light weight gold pieces and retiring them from circulation. Where all of the many light weight gold coins that are now in circulation in the city came from can only be conjectured, but it is said that the coins have the appearance of having been "sweated."

This sweating process is a Chinese trick, and consists in placing a number of gold pieces in a rattler where they are revolved for a considerable length of time and in the battering operation quite an amount of gold dust is accumulated without seemingly damaging the coins.

There is another plan of making more money out of gold pieces than the government intended, by boring into the coin, extracting the dust and plugging up the coin with some dross metal. The coins that are now too plentiful on the money markets have not been treated in this manner. The advice of local bankers to the public is to inspect any gold before it is accepted and if an "L" is found on the face of the coin this indicates that it is light and should not be taken.

Poetry For Today

NEVER TOO LATE.
Say, my friend, though you've known
dismal failure,
Do not idly stand mute with despair,
There's a thought that will steadfastly thrill you,
That will brace like the keen mountain air;
It is this: not a failure is final,
Nay, no failure is final, indeed,
And there's always the great inspiration:
It is never too late to succeed.

Till he hopelessly ceases all trying,
Until then, not a man is e'er downed,
For there's always the chance a new effort
With abundant success will be crowned.
So rise far above the old failures,
Let the manliness in you be freed;
And undaunted, start anew, ever knowing,
It is never too late to succeed.
Start anew with a spirit determined;
Start anew and let nothing dismay;
From the jaws of defeat wrest victory,
Many other strong souls have—you may!
Should the struggle seem hard and unending,
If a spur for the fray you should need,
Grit your teeth as you voice the great slogan:
It is never too late to succeed!

JUDGE SPEER USES COCAINE

Macon, Ga., Jan. 21.—The fact was shown at the hearing of the charges of misconduct against United States Judge Emory Speer that for 10 years he had a standing prescription at a Macon drug store for cocaine. It was not shown, however, that the judge had used the drug to excess. L. T. Pellow, druggist, testified that the judge used the cocaine to fill his hay fever solution. Two editors testified that Judge Speer had a fondness for breaking into print.

FRANCE FILES PRIOR CLAIM

First Nation to Press Huerta For Payment of Interest.

MAY REAP BENEFIT LATER ON

Contract Right to Seize Mexican Customs Relinquished by France Because of the American Attitude Toward Mexico — State Department Not Advised of Any Conferences Between Lind and Huerta's Agents.

Washington, Jan. 21. — Dispatches from Paris setting forth the position the French government is said to have taken in regard to Mexico's default of the interest on her foreign debt were regarded as the most interesting development relative to the Mexican situation. There is a disposition here to regard the action of France in pressing Huerta for payment of the interest due as a step taken not so much in the hope of getting the money, but for the purpose of causing an early claim. It is believed that France hopes by this action to set up a claim for priority of consideration when settlement day comes in Mexico.

In view of the position in which President Wilson now has the powers, they being pledged to await announcement of the American policy before doing anything in Mexico, the relinquishment by France of her contract right to seize the Mexican customs to the amount of the interest due on Mexican securities held by her is regarded as the only course of action open to the French government. It has been admitted by the Europeans that as long as they are not in a position to undertake the whole task of intervening in Mexico, there is no use in their trying to use force for any purpose as long as the United States' attitude remains as it is.

Mr. Bryan said he was not advised of any conference now in progress between John Lind and representatives of Huerta at Vera Cruz. Neither had he heard, he said, any authentic report that Huerta is preparing to give up the provisional presidency in favor of a commission, he to take the field against the revolutionists. The state department, however, has voluminous reports from consular and other sources depicting the very bad conditions in Sinaloa, resulting from the stoppage of agriculture and industry caused by the revolutionary disturbances.

GET-TOGETHER FEAST

Youngstown, O., Jan. 21.—More than 600 Republicans and Progressives attended a get-together banquet here and heard reasons why they should reunite in a solid party. W. A. Frendergast, former controller of New York city and a friend of Theodore Roosevelt, spoke on the "Patriotic Necessity of Republican Unity." Senator Theodore E. Burton selected "The Political Situation of 1914" as his theme. Congressman Frank B. Willis of Ada spoke on "Lincoln Republicanism." Mr. Willis said that the Republican party is not without progressive ideas.

FREELY COMMENT

Washington, Jan. 21.—Republicans and Democrats alike united in praise of the president's address. It was commended by such Republicans as Senator Gallinger and Senator Lodge. The latter declared that if the president's program was enacted in the spirit in which it was presented it would prove beneficial to the country. Progressives in the main expressed disappointment. Representative Victor Murdock of Kansas, the Bull Moose leader, declared that the address was "inadequate" in its proposal of remedies.

"KICKING HOURS."

One of the most promising innovations of City Manager Ashburner is the establishing of "kicking hours." If the people of Springfield make the most of their opportunity, material progress will be made by the new city government.

Anyone in Springfield who believes that the city is not properly conducted will be given the opportunity to tell the city manager about it any Saturday night between 7 and 8 o'clock. At this time, the city manager will keep open house and anyone with a complaint about any department of the government will be welcomed and will be given an interview with the city manager himself.

The plan was secured from Colonel Goethals who put it into operation in the Panama Canal zone. It brings the head of the work into direct communication with every branch of endeavor and enables him to keep in touch with the people with whom his subordinates have to deal. It prevents any just complaint being stifled by a guilty subordinate and ensures every man a fair and impartial hearing without the interference of officials or individuals who have some private end to further.

Springfield should profit by the new plan of Mr. Ashburner. It is true that many complaints will be groundless and many plans without merit but it is certain that the city manager will secure a new insight into local affairs and gain many new ideas from the people of the city if they take advantage of his "kicking hours." The working of the new plan will be watched with interest by all interested in the welfare of Springfield.—Springfield Sun.

NEWS OUR FATHERS READ

By John E. M. Kerr.

September 26, 1872.

For several days past, the good people of our neighboring town of Washington have been all agog about the hymeneal union of Lodrick Barnes, Esquire, chief clerk in Col. Yeoman's dry goods establishment, and Miss Cole. The nuptial ceremonies were celebrated at the 2nd Baptist church, the Rev. Asa Pratt officiating, and the elite of the town and surrounding country being in attendance.

The newly weds were conveyed to the train and proceeded to Circleville and were met at the depot here by a host of friends anxious to extend congratulations. While on the streets, the near rics and costly raiment of the bridal pair attracted much attention. A wardrobe as magnificent not being often seen in this locality.

We find the above highly "colored" notice in the Circleville Herald of last week. We are not surprised that the appearance of such a distinguished and elegantly attired bridal party should create such a sensation in the rural village of Circleville. Such elegant displays are seldom witnessed in small villages, and is not to be wondered at, that the monotony of the place should be considerably disturbed. Lodrick will, however, smile when he learns that a gentleman of the "colored" persuasion, has been elevated to the chief clerkship in Colonel Yeoman's store, and Mr. Barnes will unquestionably assume new airs.

COLDS TO BE TAKEN SERIOUSLY

Intelligent people realize that common colds should be treated promptly. If there is sneezing and chilliness with hoarseness, tickling throat and coughing, begin promptly the use of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It is effective, pleasant to take, checks a cold, and stops the cough which causes loss of sleep and lowers the vital resistance. Blackmer & Tanquary. Advt.

Pure and Pleasant Dr. King's New Discovery Drives Away Cough and Cold. Makes You Feel Fine.

You know how very embarrassing it is to constantly cough at parties, in church and other public places. Besides suffering the distress of coughing, you regret the annoyance to those with whom you are brought in contact, and decide not to go out again while your cold lasts, causing yourself much inconvenience.

"Every winter," writes Mrs. M. O. Cross, Granbury, Texas, "I suffered with severe coughs and colds, but since using Dr. King's New Discovery, I have not been bothered or annoyed with either for over two years."

Schoolhouse Is the Natural Place For Political Meetings and Polling Booths

By Mrs. M. L. PURGIN, Member of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs

THE cure for impure politics is a perfectly fair nonpartisan hearing of politicians—that is, those who are seeking office. To this end what is more reasonable than OPENING THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS to those persons?

MAKE THE SCHOOL A SOCIAL AND CIVIC CENTER. INTO IT AT ALL TIMES OF THE YEAR AND ESPECIALLY AROUND ELECTION TIME LET THE OFFICE SEEKERS COME TO MEET THE PEOPLE THEY ARE GOING TO REPRESENT. WIPE OUT THE PARTISAN ELEMENT. IT CERTAINLY WOULD BE INFINITELY BETTER THAN POLITICAL MEETINGS IN HALLS ABOVE SALOONS OR IN THE SALOONS THEMSELVES.

The schoolhouse, too, is the NATURAL PLACE FOR THE POLLING BOOTH. Now the polling place is located in a livery stable, a barber shop or a poolroom. The present scheme may be indorsed by a certain brand of politicians, but they are apt to oppose any move to decency. Those politicians COULD NOT EXIST WITH THE SCHOOLHOUSE PLAN.

The use of school halls for dancing for young folks is another growth of the social center idea. BETTER HAVE THE CHILDREN PASS THEIR EVENINGS IN THE SCHOOLHOUSE, DANCING UNDER PROPER CHAPERONAGE, THAN ABOUT THE STREETS.

MEMORIAL TABLETS HERE TO BE INSTALLED AT ONCE

The first of the thirty-seven Italian marble Memorial tablets, from Italy, arrived in this city Tuesday night, and twenty-seven crates of the tablets, weighing 27,000 pounds, were transferred from the B. & O. freight yards to the Memorial hall, and the work of placing the big tablets in position on the walls of Memorial hall auditorium will be started at once, employees of the Leland Hall Company, of New York, arriving Wednesday to place the tablets in position.

The beautiful white marble tablets which are three by seven feet, bear the names of all the gallant veterans living and dead of this county, who fought in the great Civil war, and the work of having the names inscribed upon the tablets was begun some four years ago, and the contract for the work let some two years ago, and for many months the tablets have been under course of preparation in far-off Italy, and have just reached their destination after their long journey.

When placed in position upon the walls of Memorial hall auditorium, the tablets will completely encircle the big room. The work of placing them will be taken up immediately, and will probably be finished within the next two weeks.

The lettering is beautifully executed, and very clear, so that it may be easily read. Each tablet is to be surmounted by a crown, handsomely engraved and bearing the G. A. R. emblem in bronze. The tablets are 2½ to 3 inches in thickness.

COUNTRYSIDE IS AROUSED

Strange Individual Who Has Been Sleeping in Woods Near Jeffersonville Now Being Sought by Authorities—Eludes Capture at Hands of Farmers.

Residents in the neighborhood of Jeffersonville are much concerned over the appearance of a man who has been acting mysteriously, and who is said to have been spending his nights beside a heap of burning logs in several wood lots in that community.

A score or more of farmers have met the fellow or beheld him skulking about the community, and they cannot understand the man's strange demeanor toward them.

The man, who is described as being of athletic build, and well dressed, first made his appearance near Jeffersonville some two weeks ago, and since that time he has been stopping at farm houses asking for something to eat, and at night kindles a fire in the woods and remains beside it during the night.

His strange actions have had the effect of arousing the people and several searches have been made for him but he has always been somewhere else when the search was conducted.

The constable of Jefferson township and marshal of Jeffersonville are on the lookout for the man, and expect to corner him within the next 24 hours, and probably hold him for investigation.

H. T. BAKER ASSUMES HOTEL MANAGEMENT

Mr. H. T. Baker, of this city, has been engaged by the directors of the Maple Grove Springs hotel to assume the management of this hotel, taking possession the first of February.

Mr. Baker possesses exceptional qualifications for success as a hotel man. His skill in culinary art, while having been employed solely for the pleasure of friends or in filling the role of chef for brother Elks in notable Elks' suppers, has given him quite a reputation, and to secure "Baker" to direct a supper or banquet has been to insure its success.

Mr. Baker takes his wife and daughter, Sarah, with him, and Mrs. Baker will assist in every effort to give patrons of this well known resort the best of attention and to make it attractive.

The new management promises added popularity for the Maple Grove Springs hotel, and the stockholders may deem themselves fortunate in securing the services of Mr. and Mrs. Baker.

WELL KNOWN RESIDENT DIES TUESDAY NIGHT

Mr. Harper Sylvanus Smith, for the past thirty-five years connected with the Washington Gas and Electric Light company, died at his home on East Market street Tuesday night at half past eight o'clock.

Last July Mr. Smith had a severe attack of blood poisoning, which was followed by dropsy. After months of illness, he was apparently regaining health, when he succumbed to an attack of pleurisy last Friday. Pleurisy developed into pneumonia and since Monday there has been no hope.

Few men have been better known in Washington than Mr. Smith, familiarly called, "Whistling Harper," owing to his habit of whistling wherever he went, and his cheery ways.

Mr. Smith was about 72 years old and the veteran employee of the Gas company. He was an active and valued member of Temple lodge, I. O. O. F. The deceased is survived by a widow and one daughter, Mrs. J. W. Lyle, of Jamestown, who was with her father during his last illness.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock, at Grace M. E. church.

HANDSOME BUILDING NOW OCCUPIED

Mr. Elmer Klever is now occupying the new undertaking apartments and his family, the flat in connection, in the new building he has erected on Market street, opposite the court house.

The building is a handsome addition to that section of town, built of art brick, in dark red, with white stone trimmings, and the style of architecture tasteful and effective.

The building is three stories with 14 rooms, including Mr. Klever's business apartments and two most complete flats, with separate entrance.

Mr. Klever prides himself upon having one of the most attractive undertaking apartments in this part of the county. The main office has tiled floor, and oak woodwork, with paneled fire place, seats of oak on either side of a handsome brick mantel in the art style.

The electric light fixtures are of oxidized brass, with brush brass trimmings and opalescent glass.

In the rear of the office is located the show room and chapel combined, a large room with yellow sand finished walls, white woodwork and mahogany doors, that are exceptionally handsome and give tone to the room. A dark green rug fits in with the entire color scheme.

To the right, at the far end, is a commodious stock room and in the basement a morgue.

Mr. Klever has on exhibition in his show room a crepe broad cloth casket, which has been built after his own design and is quite new in its richly upholstered interior finish of the broadcloth to match the exterior.

The Klever's residence apartment, with private entrance, at the side of the business apartment, is a flat of five rooms, equipped with all modern conveniences, and opening on to a balcony on Market street, which gives the advantage of a summer porch. A large front living room is inviting with art mantel, paneled seat and book case on either side, and opening from it a music room.

The dining room has paneled ceiling and china cabinets built in, and off of it is a most complete kitchenette, the only one of the kind in the city.

The paneled effect which is a feature of the rooms, is carried out in all the doors and windows of the entire establishment.

The third story flat is similar to the one below, and there are two hallways, so that the flats can be thrown together, or made separate. Mr. Klever and family are occupying both flats.

The office is fitted up with a system of call bells and telephones which reaches the second and third floors.

VIEW OF OTHERS

NO PANIC IN 1914.

"I have no fear of any serious unsettlement of business or of any long disturbance of prosperity. The country is too large and strong and so wonderfully wealthy that its citizens may safely write in their New Year's resolution this year that there shall be no business panic in 1914."

—John Wanamaker, in a speech before the Union league in Philadelphia.

There is a popular thought afloat to the effect that if our country had a lot more money—the kind you carry in your pockets—the country would be humming. Do you ever remember a busier or more booming time than the United States enjoyed in the years 1905 and 1906?

Every conceivable business report showed those years to be the high combers among all the years. They over-topped all the years that had gone before. And yet we see by the official figures that each of us has nearly $5 more money now than we had in 1905.

The money in circulation now for every inhabitant is that much greater. So it would appear that financially measured, the circulating medium is not the sole saving grace of the people.

The real basis of business is not money, but confidence. Confidence is the canal which floats 95 per cent of business.

Each man generates his own confidence. If we fearfully hold back waiting for hard times, the hard times can't help coming. If we all go ahead doing business, business is bound to hum.

It is more a question of psychology than of economics. General timidity brings hard times. General confidence brings good times. Wall Street has little to do with it, except to cause fear or confidence.

If every newspaper in the country were to declare persistently that there is nothing to fear, panic could never cast a shadow as large as a man's hand.—Athens Messenger.

EPIDEMIC OF BAD COLDS AND GRIPPE

Hundreds of persons are suffering from bad colds and severe cases of the grippe, due in part to the variety of unhealthy weather within the past week or ten days.

In a great many cases the affliction works upon the throat, causing hoarseness but apparently does not affect the victim in the manner of an ordinary "bad cold."

Persons in all walks of life have been suffering from the epidemic.

TOTAL CONVERSIONS EXCEED 250 PERSONS

To date the number of conversions in this city and county as a result of the revivals, exceeds 250, and by Sunday this number is expected to reach 400 to 500.

Great interest is being shown in all churches, including quite a number scattered throughout the county, and the results have been most pleasing to those engaged in the work of conducting the various meetings.

In a number of instances the revivals have not reached their height, and in these churches next week is expected to be a banner week.

PRIZE DRILL FEATURES ODD FELLOWS' SESSION

Pink Team Under Capt. Allen Will Dine on Oysters as Result of Carrying Off First Prize in Close Contest Among Guards of the Imperial Degree Staff.

A very enjoyable session of the Odd Fellow lodge was held Tuesday night, the leading feature of the meeting being a prize drill put on by the various teams of guards of Imperial Degree Staff, and considerable friendly rivalry resulted.

A few weeks ago an oyster supper was offered the winning team in a drill contest, one of the oldest Odd Fellows in the county making the offer, and since that time the guards have been busy drilling to carry off the prize.

The judges were: Col. B. H. Millikan, Capt. O. E. Hardway and Capt. H. C. Allen, and after carefully considering the work of each team, the prize was awarded to Capt. R. G. Allen's team, and they will dine on oysters next week. The guards composing the team under Capt. Allen are: Chas. Marine, Frank Carr, Jerry Ferneau, Albert Bachert, Frank Miller, Jasper Blackmore, Sam Maddux and Sidney Katz. They are the Pink guards.

The other teams taking part in the contest were: The Blue guards, Capt. Smith; Red guards, Capt. Peart; White guards, Capt. Elliott; and the officers team under Capt. Vincent.

Each team did splendid work and received hearty applause. The contest is one of the features to increase interest in the work and prepare the Imperial Degree Staff for the trip to Atlantic City next summer, where a prize drill will be given at the session of the Grand Lodge of the United States.

Work commenced Tuesday evening at seven o'clock in order that the session might be ended by eight o'clock so that those in attendance could attend services at the churches.

PROF. MURRY WINS LIFE CERTIFICATE

Relatives and friends in Fayette county will be interested to learn of the success of Prof. A. L. Murry in school circles, from the Loudonville Advocate:

"The many friends of Prof. A. L. Murry, now superintendent of the Amity schools, are pleased to learn that he has passed the state board examination and has been granted a life high school certificate. Prof. Murry was superintendent of the Jelloway schools here for five years and left them on a higher plane than they had ever been. Prof. Murry will make good wherever he is placed."

Supt. Murry won a life certificate in the common school examination two years ago. He is a brother of Mr. Sherman Murry, and has family connections in Good Hope, where he was raised and grew to young manhood.

B. & O. HITS STONE TRAIN IS DELAYED

B. & O. passenger train No. 105 reached this city about 9:25 a. m. Wednesday, the delay being occasioned by the train striking a huge stone which rolled upon the track near Wheeling.

The train is due to reach this city at 5:07 a. m. Considerable mail was delayed by the lateness of the train, as No. 105 usually carries a large amount of mail from the east.

WORKMEN BUSY ON STIMSON BUILDING

The interior finishing work is now under way in the Stimson addition to the Y. M. C. A., and the plumbers are installing the heating fixtures, so that within a short time heat may be turned on in any part of the building.

By next week all of the plastering is expected to be finished, and within a reasonable time all of the other interior work will be completed and the building thrown open for use.

W. R. C.

The W. R. C. will meet with Mrs. Werter C. Briggs, 357 E. Temple St. on Friday, January 23rd, at 2:30 p. m. Each member will respond to the roll call with a scripture quotation. A short program of song and reading will follow.

In Social Circles

Mrs. R. M. Hughey entertained the Cecilians Tuesday afternoon. It was a Geleg afternoon, and Mrs. G. S. Hodson prefaced the program with an interesting paper on the composer and the musical revelations of his genius.

Miss Mable Kessler and Mr. James Kneisley played a beautiful violin duet and Mrs. J. H. Chapman gave artistic interpretation to one of the loveliest of Geleg's composition, "The Butterfly."

Mrs. Hughey sang "One Fine Day" from "Madame Butterfly" superbly.

Mrs. H. L. Stitt and Mrs. Werter Shoop were the accompanists.

The women of the Wednesday Euchre club were indebted to Mrs. J. Star Smith for charming entertainment this afternoon.

Assisting in the hospitalities were Misses Dorothy Smith, Charlotte Dahl, Jean Palmer and Marie Lanum.

Mrs. Rollo Marchant, of near Octa was an out-of-town guest.

Dr. and Mrs. James Silcott have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Marie Helen, to Mr. Eugene Kenneth Denton, on the evening of Wednesday, February 11, at 8 o'clock, Clifton Methodist church in the city of Cincinnati.

Washington relatives and friends received invitations today.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flee this evening is being held a family gathering of distinctive pleasure and interest, in celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Flee's golden wedding anniversary.

All but one of Mr. and Mrs. Flee's nine children are present, Mrs. Mary Ruley, Mrs. A. L. Teeters, Messrs. M. P. Flee, Harry, Frank, Harley, of this city, Mr. Dan Flee, of Columbus, and Miss Mabel Flee at home. Their families are with them. One brother, Mr. John Flee, is detained in the South.

At six o'clock an elaborate dinner was served, the table tastefully decorated with shell pink carnations and greenery.

The dinner hour was one of congratulations to the bride and groom of fifty years ago, and of reminiscence of their years of married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Flee were married in Ross county in 1864, Mr. Flee leaving soon after to rejoin his regiment in the Civil war. At the close of the war he engaged in the merchandise business near Chillicothe and removed to this city in 1887, to go into the grocery business.

For the past 20 years, Mr. Flee has been connected with the Willis Lumber Co. and is one of the well-known lumber men of this section of the state.

A host of Washington friends join in heartsome congratulations, and hope that many other happy wedding anniversaries are in store for Mr. and Mrs. Flee.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. Ed Hafler, of Greenfield, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ray Maynard, Wednesday.

Mr. H. K. Stewart is spending a couple of days in Columbus on business.

Rev. Shields, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Hillsboro, came over to attend the services at the local Presbyterian church Tuesday and was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Boynton Gage. Rev. Shields remained over Wednesday, the guest of his cousin, Mrs. Hiben Ervin.

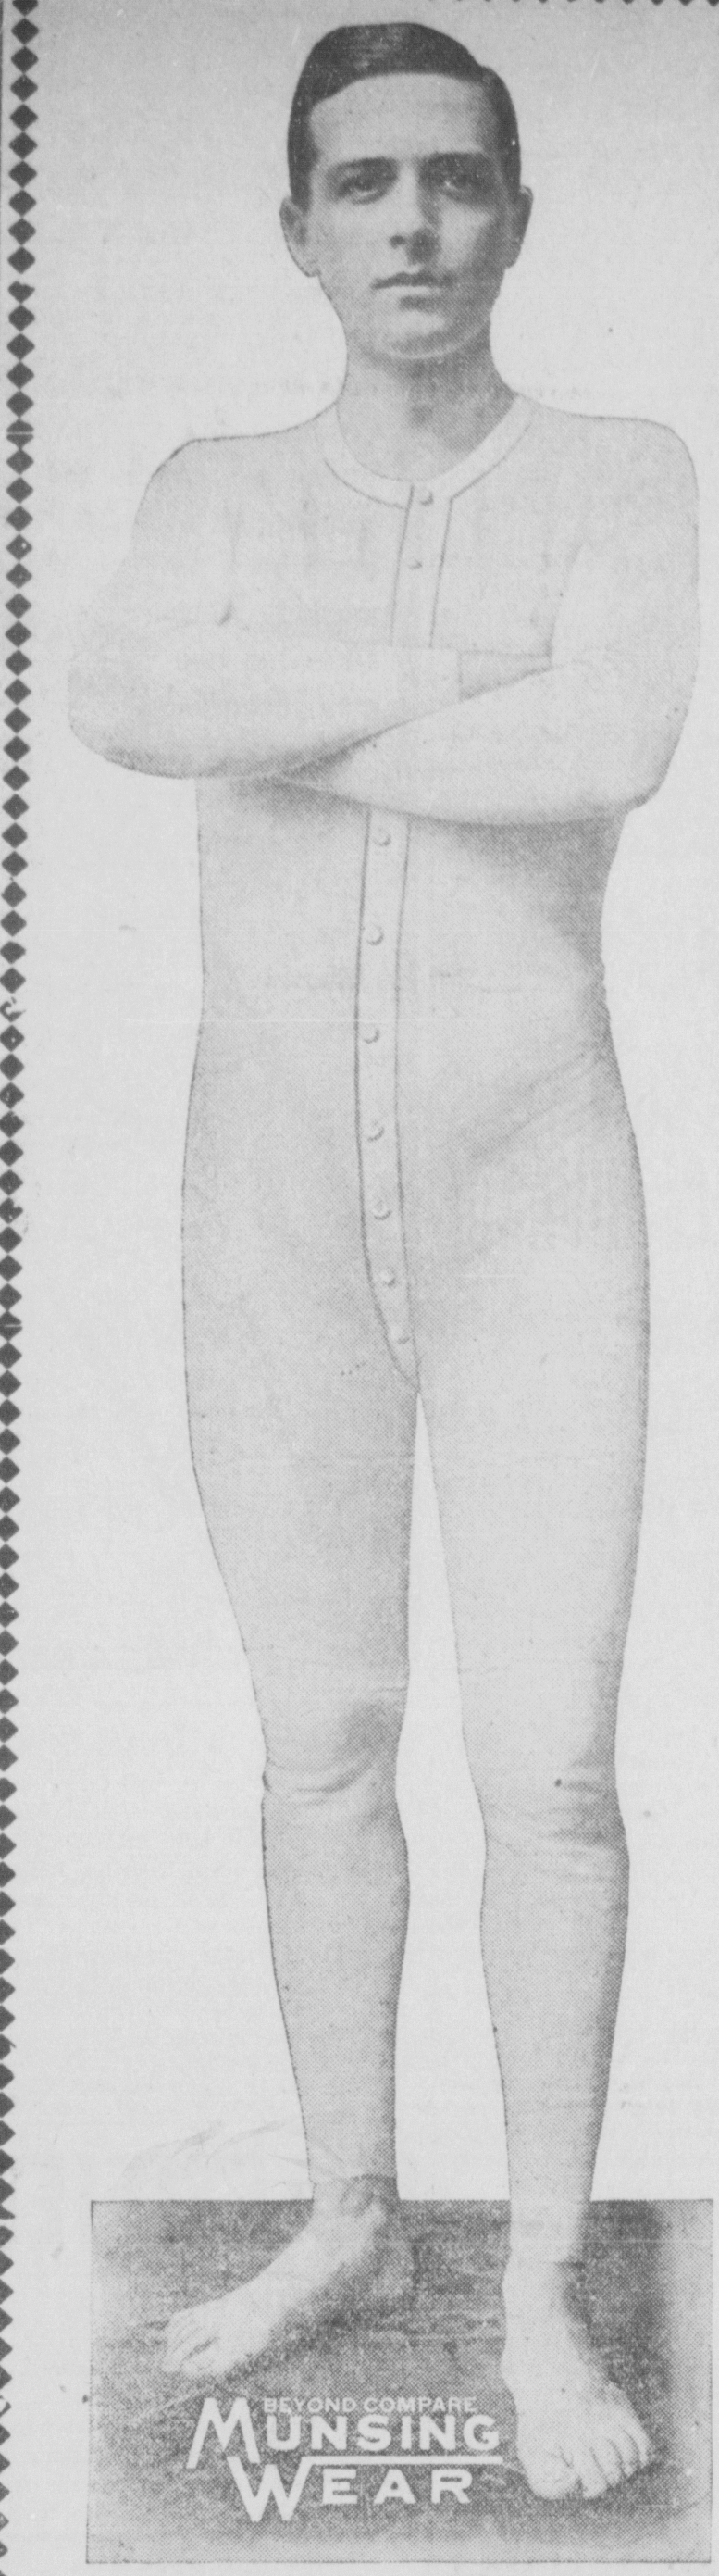

Miss Marie Beatty left Wednesday morning for Columbus to remain several weeks.

Mrs. Alva Jobe has been the guest of friends in Zanesville this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollo Marchant expect to move from the Marchant homestead, near Octa, to Washington, and will occupy the local residence property, on Paint street, as soon as it is vacated by Mr. J. Star Smith and family.

Mr. W. J. Galvin leaves Thursday on a short business trip to Lima and Springfield.

Mr. Wm. Blackmer returned to his home in Roxbury Wednesday, after a visit with his brother, Mr. Jess Blackmer and family.

CHAMPION POOL PLAYER DEFEATED

Roy Melson, of Dayton, champion pool player, met his Waterloo Tuesday night, when he and John Elder completed a series of three games, with Melson losing two of the series.

The first game played by the two men, resulted in Elder winning by 100 to 81. Melson won the second, the score standing 100 to 80. The third game, won by Elder, stood 100 to 66, being the most decisive victory of the three games.

Elder now claims the local championship in pool playing, and is ready to meet all comers.

Melson was also defeated by Jesse Maddux in an interesting pool game Tuesday night by the score of 100 to 71, at the Oak billiard room.

WORKED WITH AIM AND REACHED GOAL

The career of Dr. Charles Shaw, of Jamestown, N. Y., who is conducting the evangelistic services at the Presbyterian church, is one full of interest. He was a reporter, telegrapher, railroad, shipping clerk, miller and private secretary before becoming a minister.

A course in a theological seminary requires money, and young Shaw had determined that he would graduate at such a seminary, and make the ministry his life work. In all of the various employments he secured, this idea was never relinquished, and a portion of his wages was regularly set aside in a fund that would enable him to secure his coveted education. Such a purpose always wins in the end, and the day came when he matriculated at the famous Auburn Theological Seminary of New York, from which institution he was graduated.

Dr. Shaw is Scotch-Irish by blood, English by birth, and American by adoption. The early years of his life were spent in England. During the last five years of his business career, he was connected with the largest shipping firm in the world, in which for some time he held the post of private secretary to one of the proprietors. During this time, he was employed out of business hours, as a local preacher, temperance speaker, Sunday school teacher, secretary of the Band of Hope, mission worker, and singer in a choral society of one thousand voices.

He is now entering on the sixth year of his pastorate at the First Presbyterian church of Jamestown, N. Y., the largest church in the Buffalo Presbytery, outside of that city.

HOUSE UPSETS LEADERS' PLAN

Members Vote to Probe Right of Four Democrats to Seats.

ADOPT THE DISER RESOLUTION

Speaker Swain Rules Out Another Resolution by Diser Concerning Disappearance of the Mooney Bill. Free Text Books the Burden of a Senate Measure — Personal Property Exemption May Be Raised.

Columbus, O., Jan. 21.—Democratic representatives defeated the plan of Speaker Swain and Representative Warnes, Democratic floor leader, to sidetrack the Diser resolution to investigate the right to their seats of four Democratic members who were given state jobs, and voted to have the probe made at once. By 6 to 90, the house defeated the Warnes motion to send the resolution to the fees and salaries committee, and by 78 to 10 adopted the resolution with its provision that the inquiry be made by a special committee of two Democrats and two Republicans. In the cross-fire of debate, Warnes charged Diser with having been inspired by Chairman Harry M. Daugherty of the Republican state executive committee. Diser denied the imputation. The four Democratic members who were given state jobs are O. C. Orri-son of Franklin county, Robert Black and John Hoffman of Hamilton county and M. A. Warnes of Holmes county, the majority floor leader in the lower house.

All the accused have technical defenses. Attorney General Hogan, who told Governor Cox the appointments of legislators to jobs was loaded with dangerous campaign ammunition and ordered the employments canceled, will be called as a witness before the committee. Speaker Swain ruled outside the scope of legislation at this session the other Diser resolution to probe charges by State Auditor Donahay that the speaker was responsible for the mysterious disappearance last winter of the Mooney bill to require state officers to deposit all receipts in the state treasury once a week. The initiative and referendum safeguard bill may have to be redrafted because of an informal opinion from the attorney general's department that the provision that petitions be filed with boards of elections instead of with the secretary of state is unconstitutional.

Free Text Books.

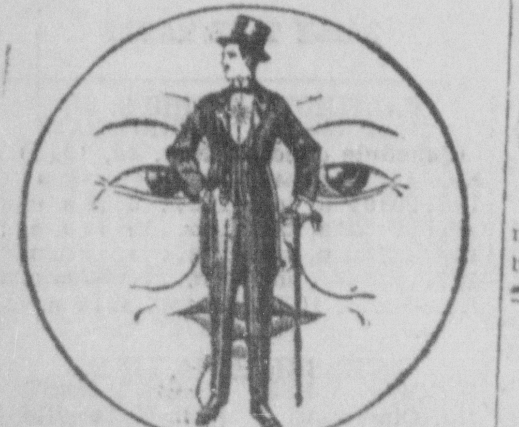

Senator Dollison of Hocking county introduced a bill, outside the governor's program, making the furnishing of free text books compulsory upon boards of education. The state and district each is to pay half the cost. Only the grades will be furnished with free text books.

Plans for converting Franklin college, at New Athens, Harrison county, into a state normal school, were presented to the senate by Senator Howard of Belmont county.

Governor Cox is thinking favorably of the proposition to raise the exemption on personal property from $100 to $500.

The Ohio State Automobile association got a tentative agreement from Governor Cox to substitute a flat $6 rate for the sliding scale based on horsepower, and the bill may be revamped. The governor said his contention was that the bill must produce $600,000 for good roads. The automobile people are opposed to the Representative Detrick of Logan introduced a bill appropriating $200,000 to erect a building for the college of education at Ohio State university. Representative Gilson of Jefferson introduced a bill forbidding the teaching of anything in the first four years of school except spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic and grammar.

C. C. McNamee of Cleveland was elected enrolling clerk of the house in place of A. J. Hildredth, resigned.

WHY VESSELS

BREAK IN TWO

Important questions are raised by the wreck of the tank steamer Oklahoma which should not be lost sight of in the tragedy of the life-loss and the remarkable escape of part of the crew. This ship was comparatively new—built no longer ago than 1908—with a gross tonnage of about 6,000. But either when balanced on top of a wave or when lifted up end and end by waves, it broke in two apparently as quickly and as cleanly as if of hollow boxwood under a knife.

That its bulkhead construction was of the best is indicated by the fact that the stern half raced along for some time under a full head of steam and nearly ran down the bow half, which kept afloat until sunk by the cannon-shot of a derelict-destroyer.

If one freight ship of apparently the most modern construction can thus break in two under the mere stress of wave motion, why may not others, including passenger vessels, be exposed to the same danger? As a matter of fact they are, and have in many cases succumbed to the test.

There was the Western Reserve on the Great Lakes, which went down with all hands from such accident. The British torpedo-boat catcher Cobra broke in two at sea some years ago and all on board were lost. The Santa Rosa, on the Pacific Coast was similarly broken in two at the bulkhead amidships and lost. As late as August 1912, the British Dacre Castle was lost in the same way, and in July of last year the Japanese Manchu Maru. Undoubtedly many of the ships which have left port and never been heard of afterward disappeared from the same cause.

The Oklahoma was 419 feet long, or about half the length of an average trans-Atlantic liner, and as much length increases, the relative longitudinal amidships necessarily decreases. Nor is the longest ship afloat long enough always to be sure of never being balanced at the top of a single wave or never exactly bridging two waves. Such positions are doubtless rare to the biggest vessels, but shipbuilders do not appear to be as sure as they should be that the strain could be withstood if it ever came.

Experts like Samuel Holmes, of this city, explain the Oklahoma and other cases of the kind by the fact that the transverse riveting of the sections of hull follows a single line around the girth of the ship and so concentrates on that line all the weakness resulting from the numerous rivet holes. But why then should so obvious a course of weakening be persisted in when it might apparently be overcome by a wider distribution of the riveting? It is a matter which will engage the closer attention of ship architects and builders.

LITTLE STORIES ABOUT OHIO

By CHARLES E. CHIDESTER

CAPTURE OF MURDERESS GIVES TOWN NAME

The capture of a woman who had slain her husband gave Newcomers-town its name.

In 1761 there lived near Coshocton Eagle Feather, an Indian chief. He was the husband of Mary Harris, the first white woman occupant of this part of the state who, between 1730 and 1740, when only 10 years of age, had been stolen by the French Indians and taken to Ohio, where she was appropriated by Eagle Feather as his wife and made to live in a village near the junction of Killbuck creek and the Walhounding river, about seven miles northwest of what is now Coshocton.

So prominent did she become that the place was named "White Woman's Town," and the Walhounding branch between White Woman's Town and Coshocton, "White Woman's River."

When Mary Harris had reached the age of nearly 50 and was the mother of several children, her husband one day brought home another wife whom Mary called the "New comer." Jealousies arose and finally Eagle Feather was found one day with his head split open and the tomahawk still in the skull. The Newcomer was missing.

A wild hue and cry for vengeance immediately went up. Mary Harris was popular while the Newcomer had never ranked high in the estimation of the braves. They organized a posse.

The woman was captured and returned to "White Woman's Town," and on December 26, 1761, was killed by the Indians. The spot where she was caught was later named Newcomers-town.

Mary Harris died among the Indians. Hunters who saw her when she was 50 year old, said she remembered that New England, from which she was stolen, was a very religious place, and that she wondered how such religious people could be as wicked as the white men she had seen in the forest near her home.

FINANCIAL RELIEF OF CITIES SOUGHT

Columbus, O., Jan. 21.—The repeal of the Hite law, amendment of the Smith law, determination of a city's bond limitation by its residents, and the regulation of tax rates by the people are immediately necessary before Ohio municipalities can enjoy full freedom of the home-rule amendment, is the opinion of Henry T. Hunt, former mayor of Cincinnati, who addressed the Ohio Municipal league, now in session here. So long as the state seeks to control the minute regulations of municipal government, there will be a hitch, Mr. Hunt said.

A more broadened home-rule statute for Ohio will be sought by the league if the suggestions of Mayor Fesler of Cleveland are followed. The fact that within the last year 22 Ohio cities sought to take advantage of the amendment is evidence that the urban population desires to be rid of the rigid state laws, he claimed. Mr. Fesler is secretary of the league.

Complaint of lack of knowledge of municipal finances on the part of the average citizen was made by Mayor Karb in his address of welcome to the delegates of the league.

"The civil service has come to stay and it is only a question of how fast and how firmly we can establish it," declared S. A. Hoskins, president of the state civil service commission.

The league adopted a resolution calling on Governor Cox to recommend the enactment of laws designed to remedy financial conditions facing Ohio cities.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get At the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way, when the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. advt

WOULD CHECK REBEL ADVANCE

Juarez, Jan. 21.—Every federal force in northern Mexico, including the armies occupying Torreon, Saltillo, Nueva Laredo and Monterey, will soon be withdrawn from their present posts and massed at San Luis Potosi, where President Huerta will take personal command and endeavor to check the southern progress of Constitutional armies, according to information which reached rebel military headquarters in Juarez. Juarez military officials place much confidence in the report. They say that Huerta is in the last ditch and believe that the only way he has the slightest chance of stemming the revolution's tide is to take the field in person. The provisional president, since the flight of General Mercado from Ojinaga, has lost confidence in most of his generals, it is said.

San Luis Potosi is 600 miles north of Mexico City and a logical military point for a base of operations against armies advancing on the capital from the north.

WILSON URGES PROMPT WORK

Enacts His Anti-Trust Program Without Delay.

WILSON'S BUSINESS DEMANDS IT

Members of House Judiciary Committee, in Conference With the President at the White House, Say Bills Will Be Drafted at Once—Senator Newlands Moves to Create Interstate Trade Commission.

Washington, Jan. 21.—At a conference held at the White House it was decided that no time should be lost in putting into the form of law the anti-trust program submitted to Congress by President Wilson. The president discussed the matter at length with Representatives Clayton (chairman), Carlin and Floyd of the house committee on the judiciary. The president urged on his callers the necessity for prompt action on the anti-trust bills. He said it was the highest importance to business that the bills outlined in his message should be enacted at the earliest possible date. Assurances were given by the president's callers that the judiciary committee would begin work at once on the task in hand.

In the house the anti-trust work will be divided between the judiciary committee and the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. The latter committee will prepare the bill proposing the creation of an interstate trade commission and another giving the interstate commerce commission supervision over the issuance of railway stocks and bonds. The rest of the Wilson anti-trust program will be framed, so far as the house is concerned, by the judiciary committee.

The judiciary committee will report this giving more explicit definition in the bill of the term monopoly. It will report a bill prohibiting interlocking directorates, a bill making guilt personal in all cases of violations anti-trust laws, a bill prohibiting holding companies so far as they are formed by individuals, and a bill giving private individuals the right to found suits for redress upon the facts and judgment approved by the government.

On the senate side all this legislation will be handled by the committee on interstate commerce, of which Senator Newlands of Nevada is chairman.

While the house will initiate the Wilson anti-trust program, the main action is likely to be taken by the senate at an early date on one of the bills proposed. Senator Newlands, who will handle the Wilson anti-trust program in the senate, will introduce a bill creating an interstate trade commission as recommended by President Wilson. It will provide for a commission of certainly five members, and possibly seven, and the commissioner of corporations will be named as a member of the board.

The Newlands bill will direct that the new commission shall be built up from the organization known as the bureau of corporations in the department of commerce. It will provide penalties for corporations that refuse to give information on demand by agents of trade commission. It will fix the salaries of the members of the commission at $6,000 a year each.

RAN FIRST TRAIN OUT OF COLUMBUS

The older citizens of Washington will remember E. H. Shoemaker, who several decades ago occupied what is now known as the Smithers' residence property on the corner of North and Market street and was for a number of years a resident of this city.

Mr. Shoemaker has long resided in Columbus, where he is specially honored in railroad circles as being the engineer who ran the first passenger train out of the capital city, in February, 1850.

In an interesting statement in the columns of the Columbus Citizen, Mr. Shoemaker refers to his first run:

"It was a big occasion," says Shoemaker. "The city's population then was between 15,000 and 17,000. A good per cent of 'em turned out. They swarmed across the old wooden bridge, crossing the Scioto at Broad street, to get to the Columbus and Xenia railway depot, where the train started from. The depot was on W. Broad street near the old court house. "The first trip was from Columbus to Xenia. We made what was then considered a very fast run, in honor of the occasion. We averaged about 25 miles an hour. The directors of the road were passengers.

"I came to Columbus when the road was started in 1849. Before that I had been an engineer on the first road ever built in Ohio, between Cincinnati and Sandusky. I may be said to have run the first freight train out of Columbus, too. It was really a construction train used to build the C. & Z. railway. I ran the train to West Jefferson, where the work had progressed by Christmas, 1849. The crew ate Christmas dinner there. At that time they charged us $1.50 a week for board in Columbus. When they raised it to $1.75 the men threatened to quit the boarding house because of what they complained was "an unwarranted increase."

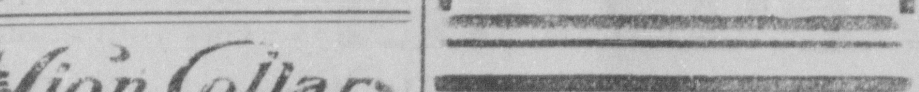

According to Shoemaker, the engine and cars for the train were brought over from Springfield, then the nearest point reached by a railroad, in wagons. They came over in parts and the parts were set up here.

Shoemaker is a well-preserved old man. He takes a daily walk from his home to the court house and back "just for the exercise." His fireman on the first trip, he says, was Henry Boardman. Boardman has been dead many years. After Shoemaker's connection with the Columbus and Xenia terminated, he was employed by the Pennsylvania company and later by the Hocking Valley. He retired 18 years ago.

HITS SOUL MATES PARMENTER PLANS REPUBLICAN MEET

New York, Jan. 21.—Allen soul mates who are prevented from making a haven of this country by the immigration authorities can never re-enter the country under any conditions, according to a decision handed down by the circuit court of appeals. The court rules that even if they come over here singly or attempt to exonerate their mistake by marriage they will be sent back nevertheless. The decision affects the right of Hans Bander, a wealthy Swiss, to remain in this country. Bander came to this country a number of years ago and built up a prosperous business in Chicago.

Columbus, O., Jan. 21.—Chairman W. L. Parmenter of the Republican state central committee announced a committee to arrange for the state Republican get-together dinner at Memorial hall here on Feb. 26, and took occasion to criticize Governor Cox and Chairman Brown of the Progressive committee for an alleged alliance to keep the Moose party in existence.

Mr. Parmenter said that all differences in the last presidential campaign have been buried by the rank and file of the Republican party, and added: "Our former party associates who voted the Progressive ticket in 1912 did not do so for the Cox-Brown patronage and they will not longer follow a movement designed to aid the Democratic party and assist in advancing the political ambitions of Governor Cox."

The committee appointed to take charge of the meeting is as follows: Karl H. Kellar, Toledo; A. N. Rodway, Cleveland; Peter W. Durr, Cincinnati; N. H. Fairbanks, Springfield; W. H. Miller, Columbus; D. A. Allaman, Dayton; W. L. Parmenter, Lima; A. M. McCarty, Canton; D. M. Massie, Chillicothe; C. L. Knight, Akron, and Fred D. Connolly, Columbus. Chairman Daugherty of the state executive committee will be chairman of the reception committee.

WANT COURSE OF CANAL CHANGED

The authorities of the city of Cincinnati are urging the State Public Works Commission to consent to a plan to change the old canal bed running through the town, into a trunk sewer. The canal is now a menace to the health of the community and heavy pressure is being brought to bear on the State Board to consent to the proposed change.

REID ATTRACTS STATEWIDE NOTICE

The newspapers over the state are carrying a fine cut of Hon. Chas. A. Reid of this city. He is the Republican House floor leader and his party's attitude on the school bill is attracting much notice over the state. He has announced that the Republicans will not obstruct the state administration in the plan for better schools.

FORMAL OPENING GIBSON HOTEL

The new Gibson hotel in Cincinnati will be formally opened on Saturday, and the management has sent out invitations to the hotel men of the state.

Mr. Howard Griggs, proprietor of the Cherry hotel of this city, expects to attend the opening.

RAILROAD TO OPEN UP AFRICAN COAST

Trunk System, 786 Miles Long, From Ocean to Interior.

New York.—An event of great economic importance will be realized early in 1914 by the completion of the Central railway in German East Africa. Construction was begun in 1904 and completed to Tabora, 530 miles from the seaboard terminal, in February, 1912.

The railroad when completed will extend 786 miles—from Darressalam, on the Indian ocean, to Kilgoma, on Lake Tanganyika. The line divides the German colony into two equal areas, thus making a trunk system from which branches may be built over a great part of the colony.

A vast and productive region is thus opened for establishing plantations. It will also become the outlet for the broad hinterland in which lies Lake Tanganyika, with its 400 mile stretch of navigable waters, tributary to which is a rich commercial region in the heart of Africa.

Along the extensive shore of this lake products will be gathered and distributed by a fleet of ships co-operating with the railway. German East Africa, with its area of 384,000 square miles and a population of 10,000,000, is certain to respond to the economic advantages created by the completion of the Central railway. Great areas of wild land will be brought into modern cultivation, in which large capital will be invested, new mineral regions and forest areas will be exploited and public highways will be extended.

Carbon Hill, O., Jan. 21.—Roy Marshall, 30, committed suicide at his home, six miles east of here. He is survived by a widow and one child. He had been suffering from consumption for the last two years.

BUSINESS COURSE AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Within the next two or three weeks a 15 weeks' course in shorthand and typewriting will open at the Y. M. C. A., and both young men and young women will be enrolled.

Those wishing to take advantage of the opportunity to take the course are requested to call Secretary Ray F. Zaner at the Y. M. C. A.

A competent teacher will be employed to instruct the class, and a large enrollment is expected.

ANNUAL AUTO SHOW IN CINCINNATI

Automobile dealers and enthusiasts in the Cincinnati territory are preparing to invade the Queen City during the period between February 21 and March 4, when the annual Music Hall Automobile Show will be held under the auspices of the Cincinnati Automobile Dealers' Association.

This organization comprises all the solid, long established dealers of the city, who have gained the confidence of the public by handling only the highest class of standard make pleasure cars and trucks, and have held aloof from the many unreliable motor car propositions that arise from time to time.

This year's show will bring to Cincinnati practically all the standard cars in various models, exploited at the big New York Show, the Music Hall exhibit being on the circuit with the other leading motor car exhibitions that will display the products of the leading manufacturers of America. Many special features are promised in connection with the Music Hall Show, which will have more exhibitors and a greater variety of cars than were ever before entered in an exhibit in this city.

The fellow who never tries to get even with anybody is decidedly odd.

United States Senator Tillman drinks a gallon of hot water a day. No wonder he is called fiery.

Several of Fayette county's progressive corn raisers will have exhibits in the State Corn show at Mansfield, and several of the big prizes are expected to come to Fayette county, going principally to the Jefferson and Paint township farmers who have attracted state-wide attention by the high quality of their exhibits in previous shows.

Never before has so much good corn been picked for prize winning as this season, and several of the men who are competent judges, say their offerings for the big show this year are better than ever before, and they are confident of not being left out in the cold when the awards are made.

There will be sharp competition between Fayette corn growers, in several of the classes at the state corn show, which opens next week. Some of the first prizes are expected to come to this county this year, even though hundreds of entries are expected in some of the classes.
